RE: POST COVID-19-INJECTION EXCESS DEATHS

To Whom it may concern,

We have come here today as deeply concerned men and women of éiRe to make a public plea to the owners, management and staff of Limerick's Live 95fm, to report the following fact: Since the rollout of the Covid-19 injection in 2021, there has been a horrific increase in excess deaths in every village, in every town and in every county of éiRe. Such alarmingly high numbers of extra deaths and injuries are occurring in all countries where a significant percentage of the population has been injected with the Covid-19 experimental pharmaceutical product.

Excess Death statistics are a measurement of the difference between the 'actual' all-cause mortality and the 'expected' mortality under normal conditions. This is the gold standard for evaluating the health of a nation. A number of different calculation methods can be used, and the statistics we present to you here today were determined using the five-year rolling-average method.

These figures are analysed from RIP.ie which is recognised by the General Registers Office and the Central Statistics Office as a real time measure of mortality in Ireland.

The numbers in the chart above total to more than 18,800 post-Covid-19 injection excess deaths in our country. We are pointing out to you that there is a large amount of validated information freely available and in the public domain, which includes manufacturing safety data from the producers of the Covid-19 injections highlighting that they actually knew these injections were never safe. All relevant regulatory bodies now admit that the C-19 injections have already caused millions of deaths as well as maiming hundreds of millions of people worldwide. There are also data-backed studies proving the correlation between the Covid-19 injections and the rise in post-injection excess deaths currently happening in heavily injected countries. We have provided you with several links that prove these statements.

People rely on mainstream media for news and valuable information, and media companies depend on the implicit trust that the public place in them. Local radio stations enjoy an elevated level of public trust because of their close and interdependent relationship with the people and organisations of their area. In éiRe, local radio stations also function so as to preserve local character and independence in an increasingly globalist society. There is an unstated belief that the station will act faithfully in the best interests of the local people.

The Covid-19 injection rollout caused obvious and significant carnage in Limerick, and all over the island of éiRe. All media, Limerick Live 95fm included, are completely betraying public trust by continuing to refuse to report on the Covid-19 injection injuries and deaths. This wilful neglect of journalistic duty continues to contribute to the massive public lie that these injections were 'Safe and Effective.' Large numbers of trusting and unsuspecting individuals are continuing to take these injections and boosters, and some of these people will die or suffer life-altering health complications.

Tens of thousands of people are now coming to accept that the media are lying at a time when they could be saving lives by faithfully reporting on the now known risks attached to the Covid-19 injection. This is so huge and so evil that many people still cannot get their heads around how so many media professionals could collude to censor such key facts and information in this era.

Irish media has exposed itself as very stupid and very ugly. There is a glaringly hollow tone to those so-called controversial radio shows where people phone in and passionately discuss difficult subjects with presenters that posture as earnest and concerned individuals. It is now blatantly obvious that these same presenters have no intention of lending a sympathetic ear to the tens of thousands of people who have been bereaved or injured by the Covid-19 injection in éiRe since 2021.

We see you. There are no excuses or hiding places now. Even if media companies or individuals should come forth tomorrow and apologise for having censored the vital information of our times, it would be obvious that they are only doing so because they now recognise that the tide of public opinion is turning in éiRe, and not because they feel morally obligated to confess for their role in this most heinous of crimes. The whole thing is a sham, a cowardly evil-endorsing game played by people who are abusing the trust of their public. Shame on you all.

Notwithstanding this fact, the volunteers at WakeUpéiRe are inviting you to start reporting the truth, and to interview some of our injured or bereaved volunteers. They are eager to tell their stories and share information about the challenges they now face in convincing the medical and the media industries to recognise the pain and suffering of their lived experiences.

Please acknowledge that because Irish media refuse to do their job correctly, a vast number of concerned and discerning individuals are rising up from the ground to begin a grassroots media service that strives to faithfully present facts. Unlike the salaried media employees, these citizen journalists are mostly unpaid, often vilified and slurred by legacy mainstream and local media. Legacy and local media companies are displaying unqualified arrogance and disdain for both Covid-19 injection facts and anyone who is courageous enough to speak these truths. Your behaviour was and still is deplorable and renders you complicit in these enormous crimes.

But the truth has an eloquence all of its own, and this uniquely human eloquence is starting to assert its rightful place in our public commentary spaces. As legacy institutions come under scrutiny for their complicity in the quota-genocide of the Irish people, there will be a shift in the collective consciousness towards the ideals of a society that prioritise human dignity and integrity. We will look back in embarrassment at contemporary media styles, at the incessant hollow hype and frenzied denial of important and unavoidable facts that have shaped our realities these last few years.

This is a sad time in the history of éiRe, and the Irish media played a huge role in bringing about this awful state of affairs. To each and every one working in mainstream media companies, including Limerick Live 95fm, you have played your part in the big lie, and almost 20k excess deaths are the consequences. Please sit with this reality and carefully consider your future actions, the people of éiRe are now paying attention.

We leave you with this one chilling fact: mainstream Irish media are still promoting and encouraging the public to take more Covid-19 boosters. This is a great evil. We see you; we will never forget.

Signed on behalf of the volunteers of WakeUpéiRe.
